

A photograph of two kendo practitioners in a dojo. They are wearing traditional black kendo armor (bogu) and are engaged in a sparring exercise. The practitioner on the left is in a dynamic, forward-leaning stance, while the one on the right is in a more balanced, ready stance. They are holding bamboo swords (shinai) and are in the middle of a strike or parry. The background shows a wooden floor, a low wall, and large windows with a view of the outdoors. The text '剣道部' and 'KENDO' is overlaid on the image.
